Minnaugh makes mighty good reading his ad today, when he announces for the biggest of all May sales. Then it will "sure be big," as the little girl would say. Minnaugh means money will get more than its worth this May, which may be your last opportunity.

Just after the completion of the Newberry roller mill by the Farmers' Oil Mill company—capacity of fifty barrels of flour a day—it is disheartening to think of the ruin wrought by the hail in that fine field of wheat of Mr. R. G. Wallace, and in Dr. W. G. Houseal's fine field of wheat, as well as in other fields more or less.

Copeland Bros. are putting on "The Great Reduction Sale." A reduction sale means much at this store, for all who are in the habit of trading with these brothers know that ordinarily a customer gets good goods at reasonable prices, so you may expect the greatest reduction when the Copelands tell it.

The Memorial services at Rosemont cemetery on Sunday afternoon were largely attended and carried through according to program. The Rev. F. E. Dibble paid appropriate tribute, a choir rendering suitable music and the Rev. J. W. Carson offering a fervent prayer. The graves of the Confederate dead were decorated with flowers.

CONTESTANTS FOR MEDAL OFFERED BY DR. BROWN

Newberry School Pupils Write Theme on "How to Care For the Teeth."

At 2:30 p. m. Saturday, May 8, twenty-nine children from Newberry county schools wrote a competitive theme of 200 words on "How to Care for the Teeth." In the contest were entered the following children:

Daggett Norwood, Allene Dunn, Cora Ewart, May Tarrant, Edna Taylor, Lillian Brown, Mary Kiettnier and Robert Schumpert, Boundary Street school.

Edwin Lake Setzler, Susie Maude Wilson, Irwin Leavell, Welch Wilbur, William McSwain, Abbie Gaillard, Sam Beam, Sue Ella Peterson, Mary Digby, Novice Lominick and Marguerite Werts, Speers Street school.

Mary Nance and Bessie Lominick, Rutherford; Ernest Brooks, Mt. Pilgrim; Estelle Stockman, Fairview; Ida Mae Hayes, Hartford; Waldo Huffman and Virgil Derrick, Little Mountain; Ruth Cannon and Nellie Wise, Prosperity, and Annie Hunter, St. Luke's.

The themes will be judged by number, the numbers with corresponding names being in a sealed envelope in the county superintendent's office. The papers will be graded by judges in another State. The successful contestant will receive a handsome gold medal from Dr. Young M. Brown.

Dr. J. William Folk has the finest—we came near saying field—lot of English peas we have seen. And they are fine as well as prolific. He also has an abundance of fine strawberries. In fact, he has a fine garden and he says many practical and encouraging lessons are still unmarred and most of them at home.

The Newberry Business School.

Mr. Jno. H. Sligh is a strong addition to the Newberry Business school, as principal of the commercial department and assistant manager of the school. Being a graduate of Newberry college and having taught in the Draughton colleges at other places, he is well equipped for his duties here. Under the management of Mrs. Helen Ray this school has made progress. With Mrs. Ray and Mr. Sligh, it promises to have a bright future. It is an institution which should be liberally supported, as the school offers the same courses taught in the Draughton schools in larger cities. These courses include stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping, banking, penmanship and arithmetic, the same as in any other modern business college. There is no occasion to go to a business school abroad when there is a good one in your city. Graduates from the Newberry school have obtained good positions in Newberry and elsewhere. Their work gives satisfaction.

A Card of Thanks.

Mr. S. J. Cromer and children desire to thank their neighbors and friends for the kindness shown them during the illness of their wife and mother, and especially would they thank Dr. Moore for his faithfulness.

Civic Association.

The Civic association begs to extend its thanks to the trustees and teachers of the city schools, and to any and all other persons who in any way contributed toward the success of the better babies contest on last Saturday. Especially do we feel grateful to the physicians, dentists and nurses who rendered their services free, and to Mr. Geo. D. Brown and Miss Sadie Goggans for their advice and assistance, which were of so much value.

For the Babies.

The babies of "better babies contest" are urged to call at O. & T. E. Salter's studio, East Main street, with in the next few days for sittings, in order to make the group complete. No charge to you.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to express publicly my thanks and appreciation for the great kindness shown me by my friends at the time of the death and burial of my daughter, Mrs. Mary Belle Ryan. Harry Cleckley.

State Aid.

Mr. Geo. D. Brown has received notice from the State superintendent of education, with a check to the county treasurer, of term extension money to Kinard's of $100 and to Belfast of $76. Belfast recently voted a tax, and so did Kinard's. It is probable that a portion of Laurens will join in the tax at Kinard's and that some of the Independence district will be united with this district and a school building will be erected and a two or three-teacher school inaugurated for the next term. This district has also voted compulsory attendance, as did Wheeland and Chappells.

An honest man is indeed a good thing—for his creditors.

GRAND MAY FETE AND PAGEANT TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 11

On account of the rain last Friday, the May fete and pageant to be given by the pupils of the Boundary Street school was postponed until this evening (Tuesday) at 8 o'clock. This beautiful entertainment is one nobody can afford to miss, and all should be on hand early to see the May queen crowned. It will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Cake, ice cream and candy will be sold during the evening. The Newberry Concert band will furnish delightful music for the May fete.

Burial of Mrs. Fannie L. Martin.

The papers on Friday carried the news of Mrs. Fannie L. Martin's death, which occurred at her home in this city on Tuesday afternoon. The funeral procession left the house at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon for Rosemont cemetery, where the services were conducted by the Rev. J. W. Carson, of the A. R. P. church, of which denomination the deceased was a devout believer. The pallbearers were Messrs. H. B. Wells, Haskell Wright, T. P. Johnson, Roy Sumner, H. H. Abrams, C. D. Weeks, R. C. Perry, J. T. Mayes, J. A. Burton, J. W. Chapman. The floral offerings were so large the flowers were left on the casket as it was lowered into the grave and the mound was literally covered with the beautiful, silent, tributes to the memory of the departed one.

The surviving relatives have the sympathy of the public. More feelingly is that sympathy extended to the sorrowing son, whose devotion to his mother was so beautiful and true. In his grief he has the consolation of knowing that in his loyalty he has ever shown the noblest attribute of the human heart, a son's tender affection for his mother, the mother who gives her son her truest, fondest love.

Quietly Married.

Saluda Standard. Frank Miller, of Newberry, and Miss Kate McCarty were quietly married last Sunday.

The Almighty put long tails on horses and man cuts them off.

Black-Adams.

Saluda Standard. Miss Lillie Black and C. F. Adams were married Tuesday afternoon, April 27, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. F. Black, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. M. L. Kester, the bride's pastor. Mr. Adams lives at Pomaria, in Newberry county, while the bride is a popular young lady of near Ward.
